Sufferings of the Chippewas of North Dakota

As Seen and Described by Bishop Shanley.

He Charges the Government With Stealing 11,000,000 Acres of Land from the Tribe and Putting Them on a Reservation Too Small for Their Support. Many Dying for Want of Food.

PHILADELPHIA, March 18.—Right Rev. Rev. John Shanley, D. D., bishop of North Dakota, occupied the pulpit of the cathedral here Sunday, and told a pitiful story of the privations and sulferings of the Chippewa Indians, occupying the reservation at the extreme northern part of his diocese. His object was to secure assistance for their relief. With that end in view he described most vividly the condition of these Indians as witnessed by himself during the recent cold when Dakota territory was divided between the Sioux and Chippewa Indians. "Eleven million acres were stolen

Any reliable druggist who may not have it on hand will promay not have it on hand will be a subject to have not boldly, and not one cent paid in return wishes to try it. Do not accept any lakes, swamps and rocks. On these 5,000 acres were put 1,830 Indians, who are trying to make their living. These wards o. the United States are living where 100 white men could scarcely raise enough to keep them alive.'

His Grace then described a personal visit to these townships, "where," he said. "I witnessed scenes that would have disgraced Siberia. I spent over a week with these people, with the ther-mometer registering 40, and sometimes 44, degrees below zero. The Indian houses are log huts, constructed by the Indians themselves, without flooring. and with sheets and quilts covering the windows and doorways. The crevices between the logs are filled with mud, that cracks and falls out by the summer heat and is blown out by the northern winter blasts, so that the occupants may as well be sleeping outside. In these huts it is not infrequent to find six families living.
"Those 1,830 Indians cannot make their own living there. They have never been supplied with proper agricultural implements. Last spring the director of the Catholic Indian bureau sent twentyfour plows to these Indians, and with these they managed to break 800 acres of this virgin soil. But there was no rain, and to-day they are absolutely destitute-no grain. no food, no clothing, no money. One thousand eight hundred and thirty Christians-1,830 of God's children-are living on the continent to-day on the point of starva-

"While visiting these people I entered the house of an old Indian. There was no food in the house that day, but there were tears and desperation. A poor old Indian woman had a puny, sickly child in her arms. She wept for joy when she saw us, thinking God had sent relief to her children. She showed me her child. There was not a pound of flesh on its bones. I am sure that child is dead. I am not easily moved, used as I am to scenes of misery in large cities, but I could but cry on that occasion. In one corner of the room there was a boy 6 years of age, another was crying at the chimney-place, trying to warm his shivering form, while an old Indian was kneeling by the fire-place muttering, probably vowing vengeance on the white

"At another hovel a poor old man of 85 years of age was lying on the frozen ground, dying of consumption; no one near him but his poor old wife, who knelt over him with a rosary in her hands, praying for God to take her husband. Night was setting in—no light, no candle; no one to say a kind word to the proof old couple and the proof old couple and the proof old couple and the proof of the poor old couple. And this in a Christian country, in the United States of America; the land of the free, the land of plenty. "In another hovel I found the children without clothing, gathered around the fireplace plucking out the charred sticks that they might roll in the warm ashes.

"The United States appropriates $5,-000 to these Indians, about $2.50 to each one. This amount is spent in flour and fat pork, and distributed among them. The pork is sickening. I myself would not have believed the truth of this story if I had not witnessed it. During the eighteen months previous to the 1st of January, 1890, out of 1,400 Indians, 100 died. During the month of January towns up the Kentucky river valley. In three years it has been lighted by most invariably of starvation. The women are almost universally clad in one garment, a calico dress, to protect them, and let it be said, to their credit, that not one woman was missing from the little parish church on Sunday.

The reverend speaker closed by an appeal to the congregation to extend to these poor people, their unfortunate brethren, a portion of their substance for Industrial Boom in Kentneky.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., March 18.—Talking about the industrial boom in Kentucky, year ago Cumberland Gap was a cornield. To-day it is a town with about 5,000 population, caused by the comple-tion of railroads to the coal and timber fields. Winchester six years ago had 2,000, now it has about 8,000, and the new railroads about to open will give it several thousand in the next year. It is a rich agricultural country, and the electricity and has become a strong manufacturing point. An electric street car line is under contract, and also a fine hotel, to cost $100,000. It has three banks with a banking capital of nearly $1,000,000, hemp factories and large tobacco interests.

England's Industries on the Verge of Paralysis

By a Great Labor Disturbance-Liverpool Dockers Becoming Boisterous. Forty-Three Victims of the Giamorganshire Mine Disaster Recovered-Other Foreign News.

LONDON, March 18.-Just as Kaiser Wilhelm's unique labor conference opens at Berlin to attempt a settlement of questions affecting the work and wages of miners, one of the greatest mining strikes on record opens in England. The coincidence indicates at least that the English mine laborers have no faith in the outcome of the international confab, and do not care enough about it to even wait for the conclusion of the deliberations. And in this attitude, it must be said, the humble miner is for once in line with the most experienced business man and most eminent thinker. For no one has yet been found anywhere outside of the German emperor's entourage who believes that any practical result will be reached by the conference.

While the delegates of the great powers are talking about the needs of the miners and the rights of the mine owners, a quarter of a million miners in Enland will be making a physical instead of a mental attempt to arrive at a solution of the question. At present the odds in favor of a tangible result being attained are largely on the side of the doers, as against the talkers. The strikers say they have funds to support them in idleness four weeks if necessary. There is no doubt that they can stay out at least two weeks, and this will probably suffice to bring about a concession of their demands. The large manufactories cannot afford to shut down for lack of coal. If the English mines cannot furnish the regular supply the Belgian and German mines can, and when the British mine owner finds his customers supplying themselves from abroad he will be compelled to make terms with his men or sustain irretrievable loss.

This is what the miners rely on, and experience justifies their belief, for it has always been the case that with a rising market for coal the English miner could force the mine owner to admit him to an increased share of the profits of the business. The strike will, it is thought, be of short duration. Even a short stoppage of operations will cause a serious derangement of industries. If elege of making first and second choice the strike lasts even one week scores of ctories will have to be erected, and building will begin at throwing many thousands of persons out of work. Prices of coal are advancing rapidly.

The strike of the miners has created a scarcity of coal. Several Lancashire mills have been compelled to shut down because of lack of coal. Others are running on short time. The attitude of the striking miners varies according to the manner in which their demands are met by the masters.

Liverpool Dockers.

The dockers on strike at Liverpool are becoming boisterous. Though saloons within the municipal limits were closed Sunday, those in the suburbs were open Sunday, and were the headquarters for many a noisy assemblage. The strikers remain iirm, and it was unanimously decided Sunday to continue the fight.

THE TONTO APACHES.

The Rumor is Current That They Are-Ripe for a Revolt.

NEW YORK, March 18 .- A special to The World from Tucson, Ariz., says:

A special dispatch to The Star Globe says that for some weeks the Tonto Apaches at Charley Pan's camp on the Gila river, two miles from the agency, have been acting sullenly. On Feb. 18 Issue Clerk Burrows and Industrial Teacher Jerry visited the camp for the purpose of issuing ration tickets to the Indians. The officers noticed that the number of Indians present did not tally with the number given as entitled to rations, and they demanded that the missing ones be produced. This did not suit the Tontos and some of the bucks got their guns and requested the interpreter to tell Burrows and Jerry that they had better return to the agency, which they did. On Saturday about eighty of the Tontos were coralled at the San Carlos agency and they will be taken to Fort Union for safe keeping. It is now thought that the Tontos were ripe for a revolt.

THE FYENING BULLETIN

WAILY, EXCEPT SUNDA! ROSSER & MCCARTHY, Proprietors.

TUESDAY, MARCH 18, 1890.

REPORTS from Indiana are that all le not serene in the Republican camp out that way. In short, there is great dissatisfaction with Harrison in his home State, and an open bolt is probable.

THE Republican majority of the House Committee on Pensions has practically agreed to report bills which, if passed, would take nearly seven hundred million ghoul that it is, feeds on the lives and dollars out of the treasury. There: will souls of men. be no surplus to talk about by and by. And there will be no reduction of the burdens of taxation ....

IT costs the State about $400,000 a year to maintain the three lunatic asylums, the Feeble-minded Institute and the Deaf and Dumb Institute. And another asylum is said to be much needed. The State should not be niggardly in making provision for the poor unfortunates who are compelled to spend their days in these institutions.

Kansas farmers are appealing to their Representatives in Congress for relief. In their petition published elsewhere they point to the fact that a single law firm in Southern Kansas has a contract to foreclose 1,800 mortgages. No wonder that the Republicans in Congress are opposed to the census enumerators ascertaining mortgage statistics.

WHEN Harrison was inaugurated the Democrats asserted that the Republicans would make short work of that surplus. The prediction is coming true. It has dwindled to $20,000,000 already, and the Republican leaders are becoming plarmed at the raids their party is making on the treasury. And well they may. There will be a day of reckoning ere long.

SPEAKING of the Congressional race two years ago the Fleming Gazette says "all our surplus (Republican) was going North to pay legitimate campaign expenses in the doubtful States." So the Republicans of this district sacrificed their nominee in 1888 to help swell Dudley and Quay's corruption fund did they? Perhaps Major Burchett's friends will remember this next fall.

Even the grand old Bay State hasn't escaped the gerrymandering tactics of the Republican party. The Boston Globe

"In the last Congressional elections in Massachusetts 178,811 Republicans elected 10 Congressmen, while 150,-917 Democrats elected only 2. That is to say, it requires in this State 75,458 votes, on the average, to elect a Democrat to Congress, but only 17,881 elect a Republican."

The Globe gives figures also showing that the Legislative districts of the State are just as outrageously gerrymandered. The Republicans have been at this nefarious business for years wherever they were in power. That's a plain statement of a fact that is patent to all. With a fair, honest arrangement of the districts throughout the land, Congress would even now be overwhelmingly Democratic.

Hastening On to Destruction.

"One of these days a defeated Republican party will be asking itself whether it paid to steal Montana," remarks the Chicago Herald; "whether it was good policy to overthrow the parliamentary practice of English speaking people for a hundred years for the purpose of getting a little tighter grip upon things in the Fifty-first Congress; whether it availed anything to set up Tom Reed as a dictator among the people who are patient under impertinent aggravation, but who very well know the time and place to rebuke upstarts and violent demagogues; whether there was anything lasting in the advantage gained by unseating a score of honestly-elected Democratic Congressmen; whether there is real profit in the encouragement of fellows like Foraker, who must sooner or later expose themselves as this wretch has done, and whether the crimes of a Dudley and a Quay can be hidden by the ostentatious piety of a man like Wanamaker.

"One of these days all these things will come home to the Republicans of this country. They are electioneering for destruction."

Address an Open Letter to Their Delegation in Congress

Demanding Legislation for Their Relief,

And Showing the Dire State of Affairs of the Agricultural Interests of the State. Hundreds of Farms of Industrious Farmers Now in the Hands of Unserurelief of the agricultural interests of the state. The letter says:

"We call attention to the fact that a single law firm in one city in southern Kansas now has the contract for the foreclosure of 1,800 mortgages. This means 1,800 homesteads transferred from the hands of so many industrious families to the hands of capitalists, either domestic or foreign.

"The foreclosure of these mortgages is in accordance with a preconceived purpose to gain possession of these farms, and people them with a more servile tenantry imported from foreign lands for this especial purpose. Foreclosure and evictions are taking place in very many parts of the state, and we need not reall the ways to Europe to witness. not go all the way to Europe to witness scenes of cruelty in matters of this kind. All over the state the homes of our people are imperiled. They are struggling against adverse circimstances, and almost against hope to sustain themselves until relief shall come.

'The people believe that these conditions are largely due to vicious legislation. They have been promised by each of the political parties that something would be done for their relief, but both parties have been tried and both have thus far failed even to attempt any measure contemplating a betterment of the condition of the industrial masses. They have seen that while they have been compelled to sacrifice their products in many instances absolutely be-low cost of production, in order to procure the common necessities of life, and in the effort, in many cases unsuccessful, to keep the sheriff from invading their homes, their representatives in congress are engaged in the consideration of every imaginable question except such questions as contemplated relief to the distress of their constituents. There are measures which the farmers demand shall have immediate attention. These relate to questions of money, of transportation. and of the ownership of Amercan lands.

The letter then goes on to say: "The distress of the people is crying aloud for relief. They believe that very many of the questions that are receiving the attention of congress are far less urgent than those upon which the safety of their homes and the welfare of their families depend. They believe that the white citizens of Kansas have some rights as well as the colored citizens of the south. They believe that fallen heroes, both white and black, in past struggles for liberty and the perpetuity of our institutions can afford to wait for one moment until the rights of living heroes in the present struggle for American homes receive some recognition by the men who have been chosen to represent them in congress. Behind these demands are more than 100,000 ballots in the state of Kansas, and the time is coming and is not far distant when legislators will heed the voice of their constituents.'

WON'T ANSWER INQUIRIES.

Commissioner Raum Has Something to Say About Penston Claims. WASHINGTON, March 18. - Commissioner of Pensions Raum says that to answer the calls made by members of congress alone would require the entire time of over 100 examiners, and to answer the requests relating to calls from congressmen and attorneys would take the time of over 500 men. He announces that in the future he will refuse to answer the requests of either claimants, attorneys or members of congress for the status of any claim. He thinks that it is time thrown away to answer these letters, because the claimant asking for the information will be made aware of any testimony that may be needed to make the claim perfect at the time it is taken up for adjudication, and that sufficient time to furnish the necessary proof will be given. Thus it will be seen, as he says, that all the time spent on giving the status of cases before the office is ready to take there up for adjudication is time wasted.
